

Underage Drinking:

It's EVERYBODY'S Problem!

On the morning of Wednesday, April 28th, Erie County Sheriff, Timothy B. Howard and New York State Office of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse Services Commissioner, Karen M. Carpenter-Palumbo will headline a forum on Underage Drinking at WNED-TV's studios located at Horizons Plaza on Charles Street in downtown Buffalo. School principals, superintendents, board of education members, PTSA members, judges, law enforcement officers, and professionals from the mental health and substance abuse prevention fields are strongly encouraged to attend. Participants will learn why underage drinking truly is "Everybody's Problem" and acquire practical solutions they can implement in order to address this public health and safety issue.

Wednesday, April 28th, WNED-TV
8:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

Px 20 is the name taken by a group of prevention providers and related professionals in the area of mental illness and substance abuse. "Px" is shorthand for "prevention" while "20" places the group's focus in the 21st century by allowing continuing initiatives to be labeled Px2010, Px2011 and so on. The Px20 group works under the guidance of the Erie County Department of Mental Health on a multi-year comprehensive prevention plan that incorporates data-driven decision making and evidence-based practices into a local framework. This event is just one part of the group's multi-dimensional prevention plan to curb local substance abuse and related unhealthy behaviors.

The following organizations are current members of Px20:

Action for Mental Health
Buffalo State College Center for Health & Social Research
Erie County Council for the Prevention of Alcohol & Substance Abuse
